The Director of NSA Visits NSA/CSS Hawaii

(S) On 18 November, NSA/CSS Hawaii welcomed the Director of the NSA, LT General Alexander. While at NSA/CSS Hawaii, the Director spent a lot of time touring the facility and shaking hands. He "coined" several personnel for outstanding individual achievements and presented the HSID Counter-Terrorism Department (HS2I) with the Director's Team Excellence Award for 2004. With over 100 nominations annually, this award is earned by the cryptologic team that demonstrates the highest levels of excellence in esprit de corps, customer focus and results.

(U//FOUO) On 14 November, NSA/CSS Hawaii SID welcomed the Signals Intelligence Deputy Director, Mr. Charlie Meals.

OPERATIONS

HIGHCASTLE

(U//FOUO) The NSA/CSS Hawaii is undergoing the HIGHCASTLE (HC) Information Technology infrastructure modernization. The HC modernization, integration, and legacy support program will standardize corporate services, voice processing, and analysis and reporting architectures for its customers in the field. HC hosts and integrates agency standard software tool sets and applications. To the greatest extent possible, the HC architecture parallels and mirrors that used by NSA analysts, and provides a flexible, cost-effective system capable of supporting an expanded or changing mission at sites worldwide.
